

Overview

The LLB Hons degree programme aims to equip students with legal knowledge and skills which will be a foundation to endless career options as law professionals. Students who undertake the LLB programme will have an opportunity to undergo formal legal education which is comprehensive and robust.

The first year introduces students to critical legal thinking and reasoning. To enhance knowledge in the discipline of law, subsequent years will offer a wide range of substantive law courses, including specialised electives. A research component to the degree is present through the requirement to complete a dissertation of 7,000 – 10,000 words.
