Seychelles Environmental Science Symposium 2027

Islands to Oceans: Science for a Sustainable Seychelles

19–22 May 2027 | Eden Bleu Hotel, Mahé, Seychelles

Session Sponsorship Opportunities

Partner with us to support Seychelles' leading environmental science event.

We invite organisations to sponsor symposium sessions and demonstrate their commitment to environmental research, conservation, and sustainable development. Session sponsors will receive recognition throughout the symposium programme and promotional materials.

Interested in sponsoring a session?
Contact the symposium organising committee at ses.symposium2027@gmail.com

Presentation Awards

Help us celebrate excellence in environmental science by sponsoring student presentation awards, including:

- Best Marine Science Presentation
- Best Terrestrial Science Presentation

We are also seeking sponsorship for a travel award to enable the overall winner to attend the WIOMSA Scientific Symposium 2028, along with additional prizes that recognise outstanding student research.

Your support will help inspire the next generation of environmental scientists in Seychelles while fostering excellence in environmental research and innovation.

For questions or additional details, visit the symposium website or contact us at ses.symposium2027@gmail.com